

Kate Baxter-Kauf

Lockridge Grindal Nauen P.L.L.P., Minneapolis, MN, USA

Kate is an attorney at Lockridge Grindal Nauen PLLP in Minneapolis, MN, where she represents individuals, consumers, and financial institutions in plaintiffs' side data breach litigation, in addition to cybersecurity and privacy counseling, and antitrust, consumer, securities, and ERISA class actions. She has litigated on behalf of data breach plaintiffs in federal and state courts across the country, and has particular expertise in the areas of plaintiffs' side discovery and attorney client privilege disputes. Kate currently serves as court-ordered liaison counsel on behalf of plaintiffs in ERISA litigation regarding the price of EpiPens, and has argued numerous discovery disputes and dispositive motions for class and data breach plaintiffs. She has been recognized as a North Star Lawyer every year since 2015 by the Minnesota State Bar Association for her commitment to pro bono work on behalf of indigent criminal defendants. In 2018, she was named a Top Lawyer Under 40 by Law360 in the area of Cybersecurity & Privacy.

David Berger

Gibbs Law Group, Oakland, CA, USA

David represents consumers in class action lawsuits with a special emphasis on data breach, privacy, and financial services litigation. He has repeatedly obtained record-breaking settlements on behalf of his clients, including in the Equifax and Anthem data breach cases. David is the Chair of the American Association for Justice's Consumer Privacy and Data Breach Litigation Group and holds the Certified Information Privacy Technologist certification from the International Association of Privacy Professionals. His substantive technical background allows him to understand and sift through technical aspects of a case, competently interface with corporate IT executives, and negotiate settlement agreements that incorporate meaningful changes to business practices.

Robert E. Cattanch

Dorsey & Whitney LLP, Minneapolis, MN, USA

Bob helps clients navigate the complexities of regulatory law in the area of cybersecurity and compliance and provides the perspective and skills of a seasoned trial lawyer to promote and protect their interests. His technical background enables him to understand the complex business challenges associated with today's cyber world and provide the strategic acumen to achieve success. Bob's comprehensive mastery of the policy and technical intricacies of privacy and cyber matters, coupled with his decades of experience as a trial lawyer enable his clients to achieve their business objectives. Ultimately, it is all about a client's understanding of, and appetite for, the challenges of compliance. Bob has an active trial docket in courts around the country, where his innovative strategic thinking, collaborative client approach, and business insights have provided his clients with a long string of successful verdicts and appeals. Under Bob's leadership, Dorsey teams have helped our clients achieve precedent-setting results, especially in the complex area of constitutional challenges to government overreach.

Commissioner Jill Clayton

Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner, Edmonton, AB, Canada

Jill was appointed Alberta's Information and Privacy Commissioner in 2012 and re-appointed to a second five-year term in 2017. As Director and then Assistant Commissioner, she was primarily responsible for oversight of the Personal Information Protection Act. As Commissioner, Jill has a dual mandate involving access to information and privacy rights and responsibilities. On the access to information side, she focuses on reducing delays in access to information responses, advocating for a culture that supports transparency as a cornerstone to a strong democracy, and ensuring that effective records management programs are in place. On the privacy side, focusing on prioritizing and promoting accountability in data governance, transparency through privacy breach notification, promoting knowledge about privacy rights in Alberta's education system, and, more recently, ethical assessments in tech innovations that involve the collection, use, or disclosure of personal or health information. Before joining the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner in 2004, Jill worked as a privacy consultant in the health care, oil and gas, telecommunications, and non-profit sectors.

David Cohen

Orrick Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP, New York, NY, USA

David is counsel at Orrick Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP, where he focuses on complex privacy and cybersecurity litigation. He has extensive experience working with corporate clients that have suffered data breaches or have been accused of privacy violations, defending them against class actions and claims asserted by payment card brands and representing them in connection with federal and state government actions. David was a member of the team that, on behalf of cancer detection laboratory LabMD, successfully petitioned the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit to overturn the first-ever FTC decision holding a company liable for allegedly "unfair" cybersecurity practices under Section 5 of the FTC Act. David also publishes extensively on the latest legal issues in the cybersecurity space and serves as a resource to reporters and others writing on breaking legal developments.

Starr Turner Drum

Maynard Cooper & Gale, Birmingham, AL, USA

Starr is a shareholder with Maynard, Cooper & Gale. She devotes her practice to assisting multinational clients with their privacy, cybersecurity, and information governance needs. Starr has developed globally compliant privacy and information governance policies and programs for companies to manage the content and volume of data and protect its safety and security. She assists organizations with implementation and training to ensure compliance with privacy and data security laws and industry standards and supports organizations with GDPR and California Consumer Privacy Act compliance. Starr develops consumer-facing terms and policies for websites, smart device applications, and IoT devices and assesses privacy and cybersecurity risks associated with potential acquisition targets. She has been certified by the International Association of Privacy

Professionals ("IAPP") in privacy program management ("CIPM"), European data protection ("CIPP/E"), and as a Fellow of Information Privacy ("FIP"). Starr serves on the IAPP Certification Advisory Board and is an adjunct professor at the University of Alabama School of Law where she teaches privacy and data security law.

Sheryl Falk

Winston & Strawn LLP, Houston, TX, USA

Sheryl is a Houston-based litigation partner who concentrates her practice in data security, internal investigations, trade secret litigation, and complex commercial litigation. Sheryl uses her knowledge and background in computer forensics, technology, and data security to assist clients in handling investigations and litigation. Sheryl has significant experience helping clients protect data, from developing data security and trade secret protection procedures to responding to data security incidents and investigating trade secret theft claims. In her data security practice, she counsels clients on how to identify and mitigate business and legal risks arising out of these incidents. As a former Assistant U.S. Attorney, Sheryl brings her significant investigation and litigation experience to her internal investigation practice to navigate litigation and regulatory inquiries arising out of data security incidents.

Woodrow Hartzog

Northeastern University School of Law, Boston, MA, USA

Woodrow is a Professor of Law and Computer Science at Northeastern University School of Law and the Khoury College of Computer Sciences. He is also a Faculty Associate at the Berkman Klein Center for Internet & Society at Harvard University, a Non-resident Fellow at The Cordell Institute for Policy in Medicine & Law at Washington University, and an Affiliate Scholar at the Center for Internet and Society at Stanford Law School. He is the author of Privacy's Blueprint: The Battle to Control the Design of New Technologies, published in 2018 by Harvard University Press and the co-author of Breached! Why Data Security Law Fails and How to Improve It, under contract with Oxford University Press.

Serge D. Jorgensen

The Sylint Group, Sarasota, FL, USA

Serge serves as the Chief Technology Officer for the Sylint Group and provides technical input in the areas of information security, data forensics and incident response. He has received patents in engineering and math-related fields while developing secure, low-bandwidth data transmission techniques and methodologies. Serge works closely with the FBI and industry groups in addressing forensic and information security needs to safeguard critical infrastructure processes and components. In this work, he is responsible for developing and implementing secure communication protocols, traffic analysis techniques, malware identification, and remediation efforts. Serge works nationally and internationally to mitigate the effects of malicious attacks against corporate and government enterprises, is a published author, and a vice-chair of the ABA's Electronic Discovery and Digital Evidence committee.

Amy E. Keller

DiCello Levitt Gutzler LLC, Chicago, IL, USA

Amy is a partner at the law firm of DiCello Levitt Gutzler LLC, focusing her practice on consumer protection, products liability, and technology class action litigation. As the youngest woman ever appointed to lead a nationwide, multidistrict class action, Amy serves as co-lead counsel in data breach litigation involving Equifax and Marriott. She has built a reputation as an advocate for individuals and small businesses, alike. Amy is recognized as a National Law Journal Plaintiff Trailblazer, one of the Top 40 Under 40 trial lawyers in Illinois by National Trial Lawyers, and a Rising Star by Super Lawyers. She is a two-time chair of the Chicago Bar Association's Class Action Committee, and a board member of the Public Justice Foundation, a not-for-profit legal advocacy organization protecting consumers, employees, civil rights, and the environment.

Prof. Jeff Kosseff

U.S. Naval Academy, Arlington, VA, USA

Jeff is an assistant professor of cybersecurity law in the U.S. Naval Academy's Cyber Science Department. He is the author of several books, including, The Twenty-Six Words That Created the Internet, a history of Section 230 of the Communications Decency Act, (2019, Cornell University Press), and Cybersecurity Law, a textbook and treatise published (Wiley, 2017), with a second edition released in 2019. Jeff practiced cybersecurity, privacy, and First Amendment law at Covington & Burling, and clerked for Judge Milan D. Smith, Jr., U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit and Judge Leonie M. Brinkema, U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia. Before becoming a lawyer, he was a technology and political journalist for The Oregonian and was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize for national reporting and recipient of the George Polk Award for national reporting. He received a J.D. from Georgetown University Law Center, and a B.A. and M.P.P. from the University of Michigan.

Ryan G. Kriger

Vermont Office of the Attorney General, Montpelier, VT, USA

Ryan is an Assistant Attorney General in the Vermont Office of the Attorney General's Public Protection Division. He handles antitrust and consumer protection issues with a focus on technology and data security. Ryan has investigated several local and national security breaches, led multistate investigations, and frequently testifies before the state legislature on issues involving privacy, competition and consumer protection. He worked extensively on Vermont's Data Broker Regulation laws. Ryan has also worked on telecom issues and patent trolling, among other areas. He is a lecturer on consumer protection law & policy and privacy issues at the University of Vermont and is on the Vermont Governor's Cybersecurity Advisory Team and the Board of Advisors for the University of Vermont's Center for Computer Security and Privacy. Prior to joining the Attorney General's Office, Ryan practiced for several years in New York City, working for both corporate defense firms and class action plaintiffs' firms, where he focused on antitrust complex litigation and commercial litigation, as well as electronic discovery and legal ethics.

Douglas Meal

Orrick Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP, Boston, MA, USA

Doug defends clients targeted by litigation and government investigations stemming from major privacy and cybersecurity incidents. According to Chambers USA 2017, companies select Doug because he is "regarded by market sources as the leading privacy litigator in the USA." As the lead outside lawyer handling claims stemming from the data security breaches suffered by Target, Neiman Marcus, The Home Depot, Hilton Worldwide, Landry's, Arby's, Supervalu, Sally Beauty, Sony, Heartland Payment Systems, TJ Maxx, Hannaford Brothers, Aldo, Genesco, and Wyndham Hotels—some of the most highly publicized data security breaches in recent years—Doug has become the national leader in defending companies that suffer significant cybersecurity breaches involving consumer information against the ensuing claims and regulatory investigations. Doug's recent successes include leading the team that prevailed in the closely-watched LabMD v. FTC, convincing the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit to become the first court ever to overturn a cybersecurity enforcement action by the Federal Trade Commission.

David Moncure

DaVita, Denver, CO, USA

David is VP / Associate General Counsel Information Lifecycle Governance for DaVita. He oversees all aspects of information governance and eDiscovery globally for DaVita as well as assisting with data security and protection compliance. Prior to joining DaVita, David served as International eDiscovery and Data Privacy Counsel for Shell Oil Company. He advised Shell businesses and functions on international eDiscovery issues, data breach response situations, IT security, and various other data privacy and cybersecurity related issues. He began his practice at Norton Rose Fulbright, where he assisted clients with eDiscovery, information governance, and data privacy issues. David's practice spans work throughout the US, EU, Latin America, Middle East, and APAC. He is a frequent speaker and author of numerous articles on eDiscovery and data protection issues, particularly on cross-border issues. David is Chair of the Steering Committee of The Sedona Conference Working Group 11 on Data Security and Privacy Liability (WG11) and also is an active member of Working Group 1 on Electronic Document Retention and Production (WG1) and Working Group 6 on International Electronic Information Management, Discovery and Disclosure (WG6).

James Moss

Information Commissioner's Office, Wilmslow, United Kingdom

James is currently Acting General Counsel for the UK Information Commissioner's Office, having been appointed as Director of Legal Services for Regulatory Enforcement in January 2019. He is responsible for overseeing all the legal work of the ICO and providing legal advice to the Commissioner, executive team and management board. His areas of interest & focus include regulatory enforcement co-operation in particular in the digital/online sphere and the development of privacy law and policy to keep pace with the development of technology. He first joined the ICO on secondment from his previous role as a specialist regulatory lawyer with DLA Piper to lead the legal aspects of Operation Cederberg, the Commissioner's investigation into data analytics for political purposes which included the 'Cambridge Analytica' affair. Prior to joining the ICO James spent ten years dealing with all aspects of regulatory law, including investigations and prosecutions involving money laundering, carousel and boiler room fraud, export control and sanctions issues, proceeds of crime and confiscation and Anti-Bribery & corruption with a focus on cases involving complex interactions of different regulatory areas across jurisdictions. Whilst the majority of his practice involved advising and defending large international Corporates he also headed a prosecuting team handling environmental cases on behalf of a regulatory body.

Tony O'Neill

Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Boston, MA, USA

Anthony is the Chief Risk Officer & Deputy General Counsel at the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Executive Office of Technology Services & Security. As the State's lead IT agency, the executive team is responsible for planning, development, communications and implementation of the Commonwealth's digital transformation, including enhancing data security, safeguarding privacy and improving service delivery to the end user. Tony focuses his practice on complex disputes, antitrust, information security, data privacy and eDiscovery strategy. Tony built the Commonwealth's first enterprise eDiscovery program which provides eDiscovery professional services to all executive branch agencies and independent government agencies in Massachusetts. In his current role he is charged with developing, refining, scaling and running the enterprise risk management and privacy programs for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and ensures their operational efficiency. On an ongoing basis he provides operational risk management for value creation and protection and serves as an internal advisor to organizational governance and leadership.

James J. Pizzirusso

Hausfeld, Washington, DC, USA

James is a founding partner in Hausfeld's Washington, DC office. His practice centers on representing plaintiffs in class actions cases involving consumer protection and cybersecurity/privacy (chair of practice group), antitrust, environmental torts, and sports and entertainment law. In addition to practicing law, James has served as a visiting professor at George Washington University Law School. In his consumer and cybersecurity practice, James has served in court appointed leadership capacities in dozens of major class actions recovering hundreds of millions of dollars for his clients. In the antitrust sector, James generally handles direct purchaser class actions alleging price fixing and collusion in various agricultural and food sectors. He presently serves as Co-Chair of the American Bar Association's Antitrust Section's Food and Agriculture Committee. Super Lawyers has recognized James as a Top Rated Class Action & Mass Torts Attorney and Who's Who Legal: Competition named him as one of the country's leading antitrust practitioners. In 2017, the National Law Journal recognized James as a "Cybersecurity Trailblazer" for his work on behalf of consumer and financial institutions impacted by data breaches.

Ruth Elizabeth Promislow*Bennett Jones LLP, Toronto, ON, Canada*

Ruth is a partner at Bennett Jones in Toronto. She has extensive experience with cybersecurity matters including cyber preparedness, incident response and related litigation. Ruth works with clients to develop comprehensive and effective incident response plans. Following a cyber attack, Ruth works with clients in connection with forensic investigations, reporting to regulators, notification to customers and related litigation. Ruth regularly appears before the courts of a number of provinces in Canada, including the Ontario Court of Appeal, the British Columbia Court of Appeal and the Federal Court of Appeal. Ruth regularly speaks at Canadian and international conferences on issues relating to cybersecurity and commercial crime.

Dalia Ritvo*Colorado Office of Attorney General, Denver, CO, USA*

Dalia has spent her legal career concentrating on privacy, consumer protection, intellectual property and media law, primarily as those issues relate to technology and digital content. Currently, she serves as Assistant Attorney General at the Colorado Office of the Attorney General, focusing on privacy issues across state agencies and the use and management of data and information by government agencies. Dalia also served as the Assistant Director of Harvard Law School's Cyberlaw Clinic, based at Harvard's Berkman Klein Center for Internet & Society, where she focused both her practice and doctrinal work on privacy and technology issues in the public and private sectors. Dalia has also worked in-house as Chief Legal Officer at Elefante Group, Inc., as corporate counsel at Amazon.com, and as an associate at Weil, Gotshal & Manges and DLA Piper. Dalia received her J.D. and LLM in International Law from Duke University School of Law in 2004.

Daniel S. Robinson*Robinson Calcagnie, Inc., Newport Beach, CA, USA*

Daniel is a partner at Robinson Calcagnie, Inc., a California-based firm representing plaintiffs and public entities in complex litigation. He has been appointed lead or co-lead counsel in various matters, including In re Ring LLC Privacy Litig., 2:19-cv-10899; In re Ambry Genetics Data Breach Litig., 8:20-cv-00791; In re Experian Data Breach Litig., 15-SACV-1592; In re 21st Century Oncology Customer Data Breach Security Litig., 8:16-md2737-

MSS; Dodge v PHH Corporation, et al., 8:15-cv-01973; Yahoo! Inc. Private Information Disclosure Cases, JCCP 4895; St. Joseph Health System Medical Information Cases, JCCP 4716; Blue Cross of California Website Security Cases, JCCP 4647; and Risperdal and Invega Product Liability Cases, JCCP 4775. Daniel been selected by California's Daily Journal as a Top 25 and Top 30 Plaintiffs Lawyer in California, and in 2021, received its "California Lawyer Attorney of the Year" award for his work in the MGM Shooting cases. He currently serves as the 2021 President-Elect for the Orange County Bar Association.

Sara E. Romine

AT&T Services Inc., Dallas, TX, USA

Sara focuses her practice on data privacy and security issues and complex commercial disputes. She is currently an Assistant Vice President and Senior Legal Counsel with AT&T Services, Inc.

Alfred Saikali

Shook, Hardy & Bacon L.L.P., Miami, FL, USA

Al is a partner in Shook, Hardy & Bacon's Miami office. He is a founder and co-chair of the firm's Data Security and Data Privacy Practice group. Al specializes in U.S. and international data privacy and security compliance and plays a key role in assisting companies minimize their risks associated with the collection, use, storage, and disposal of sensitive information. He also directs data breach response efforts, advises companies of applicable laws, leads their internal investigations, communicates with law enforcement and regulators, and helps to minimize negative effects in the event of a breach. Al maintains the blog, Data Security Law Journal, which focuses on data security and data privacy law. He is a Certified Information Privacy Professional and is often cited by the media about issues relating to data security, data privacy, technology, and commercial litigation.

Dr. Christian Schröder

Orrick Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP, Duesseldorf, Germany

Christian heads Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe's European Privacy Advisory Team and counsels on privacy and cyber matters, with a focus on cross-Atlantic matters. Christian helps clients build privacy compliance programs, drafts and negotiates data transfer and processing agreements, regularly handles multijurisdictional data breaches and defends clients in investigations before local supervisory authorities. Christian's core focus is on international matters, and as such, he regularly advises clients on data disclosures in the U.S., before courts and supervisory authorities. Christian and his practice are ranked by The Legal 500 Germany and The Legal 500 EMEA as well as Best Lawyers for being among the leading German and European IT and data privacy practices (2018 through 2020). Christian studied at the Universities of Bonn and Kiel where he earned his PhD with a thesis comparing the enforceability of privacy policies and binding corporates rules in the U.S. and Germany for which also won the Academic Data Protection Award DAFTA in 2007. Christian is a member of The Sedona Conference Working Groups 6 and 11.

David Sella-Villa

South Carolina Department of Administration, Columbia, SC, USA

David is the Interim Chief Privacy Officer for the State of South Carolina. He also serves as an Adjunct Professor at William & Mary Law School. David's work includes presenting and researching on various privacy topics including contracting issues, navigating public procurement, data breach class actions, GDPR, international data privacy laws, FERPA, digital personal assistants, and drones. David holds the CIPP/US, CIPP/E, CIPM, and GLEG certifications.

Elysia Solomon

Humana, Boston, MA, USA

Elysia is Senior Vice President and Deputy General Counsel at Humana Inc. where she oversees the company's legal strategy and management and leads the company's legal teams in IT, Privacy and Cyber-Security, Digital Health and Analytics, IP and Clinical Services. She has held a variety of positions in the legal field, including: heading Humana's Litigation and Internal Investigations Team; defending class action litigation and government enforcement actions at an international law firm based in Washington, D.C.; teaching criminal sentencing and incarceration at University of Miami Law School; defending criminal prosecutions as a public defender; and clerking for appellate judges at the federal level in the U.S. and abroad. Elysia graduated Phi Beta Kappa from the University of Chicago, where she also received her law degree. Elysia volunteers and has held board positions at visual arts and environmental organizations.

Dante Stella

Dykema Gossett PLLC, Detroit, MI, USA

Dante is a member at Dykema in the firm's litigation group, a senior member of its Data Privacy and Security team, and heads the firm's national electronic discovery program. In the data privacy and security space, Dante advises clients on the legal aspects of security incident responses, helping clients and their in-house legal departments to navigate the compliant investigation of information security incidents, evaluate legal and contractual obligations, and chart the path forward. He also assists clients with data-protection aspects of customer contracts, supply-chain management, corporate transactions, and general compliance. Dante has two decades of experience in litigating discovery issues in class actions and multidistrict litigation, including cases alleging the negligent handling of data and alleging violations of data-protection laws.

Jim A. Trilling

Federal Trade Commission, Washington, DC, USA

Jim is a senior attorney in the Federal Trade Commission's Division of Privacy and Identity Protection, where he leads policy initiatives, investigations, and litigation. He has played leading roles in numerous FTC privacy and data security matters, including the FTC's cases against Uber Technologies, Inc., Wyndham Hotels and Resorts, LLC, and CyberSpy Software, LLC. Jim served a two-year detail as counsel to the U.S. Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, where he conducted investigations and worked on legislative proposals regarding privacy, data security, and a variety of other issues. Before joining the FTC, he litigated cases in private practice and clerked for Judge David F. Hamilton.

Hon. Thomas I. Vanaskie (ret.)Stevens & Lee, Philadelphia, PA, USA

The Honorable Thomas I. Vanaskie, former Judge with the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit and Chief Judge of the U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania, is a member of Stevens & Lee's Litigation Department and chairs the firm's Appellate and Mediation, Neutral Services and Alternative Dispute Resolution practice groups. Judge Vanaskie was appointed to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit in 2010 where he served with distinction for eight years, participating in and deciding many complex, high profile cases. Before 2010, he served as a district judge for the U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania for 16 years, including seven years as chief judge. He received his Juris Doctor Degree, cum laude, from the Dickinson School of Law, after which he served as a law clerk to then Chief Judge William J. Nealon of the Middle District of Pennsylvania, and a B.A., magna cum laude, from Lycoming College.

Craig W. Weinlein*The Sedona Conference, Phoenix, AZ, USA*

Craig is the Executive Director of The Sedona Conference. He has been a member of the Board of Directors of The Sedona Conference since 2009 and currently serves as the Chairman. Craig has worked with The Sedona Conference since 2000, when he served on the faculty of the first Conference on Patent Litigation. He was a member of The Sedona Conference Advisory Board from 2004 to 2013. Before joining The Sedona Conference full time in 2014, Craig was a partner with Carrington, Coleman, Sloman & Blumenthal, LLP in Dallas, Texas, for 25 years. He served as Chair of his firm's Intellectual Property Practice Group for his last ten years with the firm. His primary area of practice was complex litigation with a concentration in intellectual property cases. During the course of his career, Craig has tried dozens of cases and argued numerous appeals in federal and state courts. Craig was selected by American Lawyer Media and Martindale-Hubbell as a 2013 Top-Rated Lawyer in Intellectual Property. He is also listed as one of the best trademark practitioners in Texas in Who's Who Legal: Texas for 2007 and 2008 and in the 2012 through 2014 editions of World Trademark Review 1000—The World's Leading Trademark Professionals where he is described as "a remarkable litigator whose wide-ranging trial experience earns him a distinguished market standing." Craig's book, The Art of Witness Preparation, is a unique contribution to the literature on complex litigation because it focuses on the witness's testimony and presentation, instead of the lawyer's examination and performance. Craig's publication credits also include articles in The American Journalism Review, The Journal of Arts Management and Law, and The American Symphony Orchestra League's Principles of Orchestra Management.

Larry Wescott

Arete Incident Response, Washington, DC, USA

Larry is a cybersecurity strategist at Arete Incident Response. Larry assists with breach notification and post incident response projects for Arete's clients. He is a former system administrator, IT manager, database application development manager, and IT consultant. He is a contributor to two Sedona publications: The Sedona Conference Primer on Social Media (first edition), and The Sedona Conference Commentary on Rule 34 and Rule 45 "Possession, Custody, or Control," and has published multiple articles on data privacy and retention. Larry received his law degree with honors from the University of Maryland and holds a masters in business administration from the University of Georgia. He is also a Certified Information Systems Security Professional (CISSP).

Jonathan M. Wilan

Baker McKenzie, Washington, DC, USA

Jonathan is a partner in the Washington, DC office of Baker & McKenzie LLP, where he focuses his practice on digital risk. In particular, he advises companies on legal requirements, processes, and technology for managing legal risk arising from digital information proactively and in the context of complex litigation, internal investigations, and regulatory responses. He earned a B.A., magna cum laude, from the University of Maryland at College Park and a J.D., cum laude, from Harvard Law School.

Kenneth J. Withers

The Sedona Conference, Phoenix, AZ, USA

Ken is the Deputy Executive Director of The Sedona Conference. Since 1989, he has published several widely-distributed papers on electronic discovery, hosted a popular website on electronic discovery and electronic records management issues, and given presentations at more than 300 conferences and workshops for legal, records management, and industry audiences. His most recent publications are Ephemeral Data and the Duty to Preserve Discoverable Electronically Stored Information in the University of Baltimore Law Review (2008); Living Daily with Weekley Homes in the Texas State Bar Advocate (Summer 2010); and Risk Aversion, Risk Management, and the Overpreservation Problem in Electronic Discovery in the South Carolina Law Review (2013). From 1999 through 2005, he was a Senior Education Attorney at the Federal Judicial Center in Washington D.C., where he developed Internet-based distance learning programs for the federal judiciary concentrating on issues of technology and the administration of justice. Ken also contributed to several well-known FJC publications, including the Manual for Complex Litigation, Fourth Edition (2004), Effective Use of Courtroom Technology (2001), and the Civil Litigation Management Manual (2001).