

Hon. Maria A. Audero

U.S. District Court, Central District of California, Los Angeles, CA

Maria A. Audero was appointed as a U.S. Magistrate Judge in 2018. Prior to her appointment, Judge Audero was an employment law litigation partner at Paul Hastings LLP and co-chair of the firm's Los Angeles Employment Law Department. During her practice at Paul Hastings, Judge Audero served as Judge Pro Tem for the Los Angeles Superior Court and was appointed by Governor Edmund G. Brown as Commissioner of the California Fair Political Practices Commission. Judge Audero was co-chair of the American Bar Association's Section of Labor and Employment Law Committee on Federal Labor Standards Legislation – Family and Medical Leave Act and was Editor-in-Chief of the annual Mid-Winter Report. She also sat as Chair of the Board of Directors of the Employment Round Table of Southern California. Judge Audero is a former member and advisor of the Executive Committee of the California Bar Association's Labor & Employment Law Section. Judge Audero received her undergraduate degree from U.C.L.A. and her J.D. degree from Southwestern University School of Law, serving as Associate Editor of its law review and graduating magna cum laude.

Patrick Richard Bland

Splunk, Lexington, SC

Patrick is a Staff Solutions Engineer for Splunk, a world-leading big data analytics technology company, with 20-plus years of experience in various IT roles. Prior to joining Splunk in 2018, he was in the eDiscovery and Information Governance space, working on the vendor side with Clearwell Systems, Symantec, and Veritas, and also spent time consulting with large organizations on eDiscovery and InfoGov technologies. On top of his technical expertise, Patrick is also an attorney licensed to practice law in South Carolina, where he resides with his family.

Bethany Caracuzzo

Pritzker Levine LLP, Oakland, CA

Bethany is a partner of Pritzker Levine LLP, where she focuses on plaintiffs-side litigation involving antitrust violations, defective products and services, and personal injury law. She is currently active in the firm's leadership and prosecution of several antitrust class actions. Bethany has served as a member of several trial teams in litigating cases to verdict, including those involving breach of contract, wrongful death, traumatic birth injuries, and injuries from defective products.

Jennifer Coleman

Hopkins & Carley, ALC, San Jose, CA

Jennifer is a trial lawyer and member of Hopkins & Carley's Intellectual Property Practice. She represents clients in complex litigation cases, including patent, copyright, trademark, and trade secret litigation. Jen has been involved in cases with diverse technologies, such as: automotive air intake and air filtration systems; conical crushers; digital picture frames; DRAM; financial business methods; flash memory; laser microscopes and solid immersion lenses; operating system and application software, firmware, and hardware; phenolic resins; time-stamped geospatial digital controls; wireless 802.11 a/b/g/n standards and systems; real-time web transactions from web applications and wireless modems; Solaris OS, patches, and accompanying firmware; and RF technology. Jen also has significant experience with federal and state court eDiscovery issues, has received a LPM LaunchPad™ Certificate in Fundamentals of Legal Project Management, and is a member of The Sedona Conference Working Group on Electronic Document Retention & Production (WG1) and Trade Secrets (WG12) and is an Adjunct Professor at Golden Gate University School of Law, teaching eDiscovery.

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Andrea L. D'Ambra

Norton Rose Fulbright US LLP, New York, NY

Andrea is a partner in the New York office of Norton Rose Fulbright, where she heads the EDiscovery and Information Governance Group for the United States. Her practice focuses on eDiscovery, information management, data privacy, and cross-border discovery. Andrea counsels clients on preservation and data management issues, and has drafted information governance and records management policies for a number of multinational companies. In addition to counseling, she has assisted clients in navigating foreign data privacy laws while complying with U.S. discovery obligations. Andrea served for over seven years as an officer in the United States Navy. Her diverse Naval experience includes serving as an action officer for high-profile investigations within the Bureau of Naval Personnel and managing the administrative and legal issues of the Navy's computer network defense command. Andrea also is an adjunct professor of law at Temple Law School and William and Mary School of Law, where she teaches classes on Electronic Discovery. She received her B.S. in Political Science from the United States Naval Academy and her J.D. from William and Mary School of Law.

Kimberly Duplechain

Littler Mendelson P.C., Washington, DC

As a member of Littler's eDiscovery Group, Kimberly counsels and advises Littler's lawyers and their clients on electronic discovery and information governance processes and best practices to ensure that electronic discovery is handled in a defensible and cost-effective manner. She routinely advises on various issues such as: preservation obligations, electronic discovery protocols, protective orders and clawback agreements, strategies for cost-efficient data collection and review, discovery-related motion practice, and Amendments to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Before joining Littler, Kim worked for federal agency handling employment disputes and litigated several complex ERISA litigation matters before federal district courts and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit. Kim advised on eDiscovery matters and was actively involved in procuring and implementing an agency-wide eDiscovery platform. She previously served as a Special Assistant Attorney in the U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Columbia, Civil Division, where she litigated numerous cases brought against the United States at the federal district court and appellate levels.

Phil Favro

Driven, Inc., Alpine, UT

Phil is a Chambers-ranked lawyer who serves as a trusted advisor to organizations and law firms on issues relating to electronic discovery and information governance. Phil serves as a special master and an expert witness on cases involving electronic discovery. He is also a nationally recognized thought leader and legal scholar on the discovery process. Phil actively contributes to The Sedona Conference, where he serves as a member of the Steering Committee for Working Group 1 (Electronic Document Retention and Production). Phil has led various Sedona drafting teams, including the Primer on Social Media, Second Edition (2019) and the Commentary on Proportionality in Electronic Discovery (2017). He is presently serving as the editor-in-chief for The Sedona Conference Commentary on Ephemeral Messaging (2021) for Working Group 6 (International Electronic Information Management, Discovery and Disclosure).

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Adam Gajadharsingh

Barnes & Thornburg LLP, Atlanta, GA

Adam is an attorney at Barnes & Thornburg LLP in Atlanta, where his practice focuses on litigation, eDiscovery, data privacy/security, and information management. He also is a member of the team assisting the Special Compliance Coordinator appointed by the U.S. Department of Commerce to monitor, assess, and report on the U.S. export control compliance of Zhongxing Telecommunications Equipment Corporation. He is particularly well-versed in privilege protection, having developed procedures to help avoid inadvertent production during the discovery process. Adam has trained hundreds of attorneys regarding privilege law and has reviewed the validity of thousands of privilege coding determinations. Adam is a member of the Sedona Conference Working Group 1 Brainstorming Group on Improving the Privilege Log Process. He is a member of the Atlanta Volunteer Lawyers Foundation Leadership Council, the largest provider of pro bono services in Atlanta, and works to raise awareness, support, and funds for this great organization.

Alison A. Grounds

Troutman Pepper, Atlanta, GA

Alison is an eDiscovery advocate and litigation partner at Troutman Pepper, where she founded and leads eMerge – a wholly owned subsidiary providing clients with end-to-end, integrated discovery services. eMerge's lawyers and technologists combine legal strategy, advanced technology, and project management to manage data in legal matters. Alison is also an adjunct professor of eDiscovery and Legal Technology at Emory University School of Law, is a frequent speaker and author on eDiscovery issues, and leads Troutman's firm-wide Innovation Initiative. In 2015, Alison was the inaugural recipient of the Monica Bay STEM Leadership Award. She was recognized as ILTA's Technology Advocacy Professional of the Year in 2012, has been selected as a Georgia Super Lawyer for eDiscovery (2015-2018), and is ranked for eDiscovery by Chambers USA. Alison is an active member of The Sedona Working Group 1 on Electronic Document Retention and Production (WG1), where she assisted with the drafting of the Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 34(b)(2) Primer and serves as a mentor to law students through the Leadership Counsel on Legal Diversity.

Ronald J. Hedges

Dentons US LLP, New York, NY

Ron is a Senior Counsel with Dentons US LLP. He served as a United States Magistrate Judge in the District of New Jersey from 1986 to 2007. He is a frequent writer and speaker on various topics related to electronic information, among other things, and is the lead author of Managing Discovery of Electronic Information: A Pocket

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Guide for Judges, Third Edition (Federal Judicial Center: 2017). He is also the Co-Senior Editor of The Sedona Conference Cooperation Proclamation: Resources for the Judiciary, Third Edition.

Tessa K. Jacob

Husch Blackwell LLP, Kansas City, MO

Tessa is partner at Husch Blackwell and is the co-founder and co-chair of the firm's eDiscovery Solutions group. A practicing attorney for 28 years, Tessa has a strong understanding of the legal, technical, and strategic aspects of eDiscovery and has served as lead eDiscovery counsel in numerous class actions and has led eDiscovery efforts for numerous companies. She has vast experience with large volume litigation as well tremendous knowledge and experience using data mining tools and technology assisted review. She frequently speaks on issues related to eDiscovery and is on the advisory boards for National eDiscovery Leadership Institute, Arkfeld-ASU eDiscovery Conference, and the University of Florida eDiscovery Conference, and is an Adjunct Professor of Law at the University of Missouri at Kansas City School of Law. Tessa also serves on Husch Blackwell's Executive Recruiting Committee (KC), the Diversity Committee, and Chairs the firm's Diversity and Inclusion subcommittee.

Henry J. Kelston

Ahdoot & Wolfson, PC, New York, NY

Henry's practice is concentrated in the areas of class actions, securities litigation and electronic discovery, representing consumers and investors nationwide. He currently represents consumers in class actions involving breast implants allegedly associated with certain cancers, the unlawful use of facial recognition and location tracking by leading technology companies, and improper bank fees charged by major national banks. He also represents limited partners defrauded by the managers of a private investment fund worth nearly $1 billion as well as consumers in Covid-related refund lawsuits. Henry has been on the front lines in data breach cases against some of the largest technology companies in the world and has represented consumers in class actions challenging food labeling practices, including several cases against major food manufacturers contesting the use of "natural" claims on products containing GMOs. His work in In re Conagra Foods, Inc. contributed to a groundbreaking decision by the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, significantly strengthening the rights of consumers to bring class actions. Henry is a member of The Sedona Conference Working Group 1 on Electronic Document Retention and Production. Most recently, he assisted in drafting The Sedona Conference Commentary on Legal Holds, The Trigger & The Process and served on the faculty for The Sedona Conference eDiscovery Negotiation Training. He teaches eDiscovery at Legal Services of New Jersey's In-Depth Litigation Skills Training Program and is a frequent speaker on eDiscovery issues.

Sandra Metallo-Barragan

The New York City Law Department, New York, NY

Sandra is the Deputy Chief of the E-Discovery Division at the New York City Law Department. The Division works with client agencies and Law Department case teams to promote efficient, cost-effective, and defensible strategies and workflows related to electronic discovery. Sandra graduated from George Washington University Law School in 2005 and was a litigation associate at Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman's New York office, where she was a member of the firm's Antitrust, Corporate Investigations & White collar Defense group, and Information Law and Electronic Discovery practice group. She joined the Law Department in 2013 and is a member of the Law Department's E-Discovery committee.

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Claudia T. Morgan

Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz, New York, NY

Claudia is eDiscovery Counsel at Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz, where she focuses her practice on electronic discovery and information management, both domestically and abroad. She has significant experience in responding to and advising on litigation in federal and state courts, regulatory requests for information, and internal investigations, and has managed all aspects of eDiscovery. She counsels clients on a range of information risk management issues, including eDiscovery and Records and Information Management (RIM) best practices and litigation preparation. She received a B.S.F.S. from Georgetown University and completed her J.D., with honors, from George Mason University School of Law.

Tony Petruzzi

Tucker Ellis, LLP, Cleveland, OH

Tony is the Chair of the E-Discovery Group at Tucker Ellis LLP. He is also a member of the Business Litigation Group focusing his practice in the areas of white-collar criminal defense, corporate investigations, and business litigation. The nature of Tony's practice requires extensive experience and knowledge related to eDiscovery. He frequently advises and works with clients on eDiscovery issues when responding to subpoenas and discovery requests and in conducting internal investigations. Tony provides services and counsels clients in all areas of eDiscovery, including preservation of ESI, drafting ESI Protocols, and conducting custodial interviews. He also manages the collection, review, and production of ESI for small litigations, complex litigations, and white-collar cases.

Meghan A. Podolny

Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP, Richmond, VA

Meghan's practice focuses on complex commercial litigation, information governance and eDiscovery issues, and internal investigations. She is counsel in the firm's litigation practice and a central member of the Information Governance & eDiscovery group providing state-of-the-art data management and eDiscovery advice and services to a wide variety of corporate clients. Her experience includes developing enterprise-level information governance best practices and working with clients on the development of tailored protocols to streamline a company's discovery preparation and response to control costs associated with electronic information and meet its desired risk level. Meghan frequently serves as eDiscovery counsel to advise and lead massive discovery response plans, often in response to internal investigations, governmental subpoenas or other requests. She regularly leads presentations advising clients and lawyers alike on preservation obligations and strategies, predictive coding, and cross-border discovery issues. Meghan is also a frequent speaker and writer on a number of issues related to electronic discovery, data preservation, privilege waiver, and employee communication privacy concerns.

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Hon. Michael L. Robinson

North Carolina Business Court, Winston-Salem, NC

Michael Robinson was sworn in as a Special Superior Court Judge for Complex Business Cases on July 1, 2016, with chambers located at Wake Forest University School of Law. Judge Robinson was engaged in the private practice of law for 35 years in Winston-Salem, concentrating his practice for the last several decades on complex business litigation. In addition to his service on the Court, Judge Robinson served as a North Carolina State Bar Councilor from 2009 to 2018 and is a member of the American College of Business Court Judges. Judge Robinson received a B.A. degree in Economics from Davidson College (1977) and his J.D., with honors, from the University of North Carolina School Of Law (1980), where he was a member of the Order of the Coif.

Hon. Karen Wells Roby

U.S. District Court, Eastern District of Louisiana, New Orleans, LA

Judge Roby is the Chief United States Magistrate Judge for the Eastern District of Louisiana. She has served on the court for twenty years where she handles criminal and civil matters and also serves as a mediator. She is a Division Director for the ABA's Litigation section and is formerly the Co-Chair of the ABA Litigation Section, Diversity and Inclusion Committee and former Co-Chair of the Section's Alternative Dispute Resolution Committee. In 2012, Judge Roby served as President of the Federal Magistrate Judges Association ("FMJA"), a national organization of over 600 U.S. Magistrate Judges across the country. As President of the Association she worked to secure pay raises for all active and recently retired federal magistrate judges. Judge Roby is a frequent speaker on various legal topics and she has had over hundreds of speaking engagements throughout the United States during her career. She is also published in the areas of social media and ethics, settlement and ethics, and attorney's fees. Judge Roby serves as an Adjunct Professor at Tulane University Law School, where she teaches a course on E-Discovery and Digital Evidence.

Hon. Mary M. Rowland

U.S. District Court, Northern District of Illinois, Chicago, IL

Mary M. Rowland was sworn in as a U.S. District Judge for the Northern District of Illinois on August 22, 2019. She served as a Magistrate Judge for the same court from October 2012 to August 2019. Judge Rowland attended the University of Michigan for her undergraduate degree and the University of Chicago for law school. After law school, she clerked for District Judge Julian Cook in Detroit, Michigan. Judge Rowland then served for ten years in the Chicago office of the Federal Defender; first as a staff attorney and later as the office's chief appellate attorney. In 2000, she joined the law firm Hughes Socol Piers Resnick & Dym, where she led the criminal defense practice and also litigated high-profile civil cases. Judge Rowland is a founding member and one of the judges presiding over the first alternative to incarceration court in the Northern District of Illinois, Sentencing Options that Achieve Results (SOAR). Since 2009, she has been a member of the Board of Directors of the Chicago Chapter of the Federal Bar Association. She is also a member of the Lesbian and Gay Bar Association of Chicago (LAGBAC).

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Maria Salacuse

EEOC, Washington, DC

Maria is the Assistant General Counsel for Technology for the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), where she provides technical guidance to more than 200 attorneys within EEOC's Office of General Counsel and oversees the EEOC's litigation support department. She has worked with the EEOC for more than 27 years in various capacities, including Supervisory Trial Attorney, Attorney Advisor to former EEOC Chair/Commissioner Jenny R. Yang, and Administrative Judge. She has litigated numerous cases of first impression and class and systemic cases. She is a former Fellow with the American Bar Association's Section of Labor & Employment Law and a current member of the National Employment Lawyers' Association and Federal Bar Association. Maria is a graduate of the University of Maryland School of Law and Georgetown University School of Foreign Service.

Jodi Munn Schebel

Bowman and Brooke, LLP, Bloomfield Hills, MI

Jodi is Co-Managing Partner at Bowman and Brooke, Detroit, MI. She regularly manages large-scale discovery coordination and eDiscovery programs in product liability and other complex litigation, as well as class action matters. Jodi develops and implements protocols for handling all aspects of case discovery, including case strategy, case management conferences, clawback agreements, deposition protocols, ESI agreements, protective orders, privilege logs, and document collection and review. She is responsible for all areas of the discovery process, including drafting case management orders, initial disclosures, discovery requests and responses, and overseeing the entirety of the document collection and review process. In 2019, Jodi testified before the House Judiciary Sub-Committee on Courts, Intellectual Property and the Internet about sealing the record and preserving litigants' rights to protect their privacy interests. She currently serves as National Discovery Counsel for a major automotive manufacturer on class action and other product liability matters in both state and federal courts throughout the United States.

Amy E. Sellars

Cardinal Health, Columbus, OH

Amy is an Associate General Counsel and Director of Cardinal Health's Discovery Center of Excellence. Previously, Amy led Walmart Legal's Discovery Operations Group, worked for the country's largest midstream oil and gas company, and was an associate at the firm of Crowe & Dunlevy. Amy has taught eDiscovery at multiple law schools and is an adjunct professor at the Ohio State University Moritz School of Law, where she teaches Legal Operations. Amy is a Steering Committee member for The Sedona Conference's Working Group 1 on Electronic Document Retention and Production, is ACEDS certified, and serves on the Global ACEDS Advisory Board and the Georgetown Advanced eDiscovery Institute Planning Committee. Before becoming an attorney, Amy worked as a theater stage manager and producer, a teacher, and a database designer and administrator for an ed-tech start up. A lifelong lover of narrative, Amy enjoys finding the facts and building the story in the discovery process.

Hon. Elizabeth A. Stafford

U.S. District Court, Eastern District of Michigan, Detroit, MI

Magistrate Judge Elizabeth A. Stafford joined the bench of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan on November 17, 2014. A native of Detroit, Judge Stafford received her undergraduate degree from Michigan State University and her Juris Doctor from Wayne State University Law School. She began her career at the firm of Goodman, Eden, Millender & Bedrosian, practicing in various areas of personal injury law, including automobile negligence, products liability, civil rights, governmental immunity, wrongful discharge, and general negligence. In 1998, she became a law clerk for United States District Judge Victoria A. Roberts. Judge Stafford joined the office of the U.S. Attorney for the Eastern District of Michigan in 2002, serving as a federal prosecutor in the general crimes, the controlled substance and the public corruption units until her appointment to the bench. Since becoming a magistrate judge, she has served as a panelist at the Georgetown Advanced eDiscovery Institute (2016, 2018-2020); as a panelist for the Sedona Conference Institute (March 2017; November 2017); as a member of the Sedona Conference's Judicial Advisory Board (2018 to present); and as the keynote speaker for the Detroit Chapter of the Association of Certified E-Discovery Specialist conferences (2017, 2020).

Steven William Teppler

Mandelbaum Salsburg, PC, North Palm Beach, FL

Steven leads the cybersecurity and privacy practice at Mandelbaum Salsburg and focuses his practice on proactive and preventive security and privacy for clients, as well as class action and mass tort litigation involving personal injury and property damage arising from security vulnerabilities and code defects in technology-enabled devices and services. Steven is an ISACA Certified Data Privacy Solutions Engineer and teaches electronic discovery at Nova Southeastern Shepard Broad School of Law and Ave Maria Law School. He also teaches cybersecurity as a Professor of Practice at the University of South Florida.

Hon. Becky R. Thorson

U.S. District Court, District of Minnesota, St. Paul, MN

U.S. Magistrate Judge Becky R. Thorson was appointed to the bench in 2014. Prior to her appointment, she was a partner at Robins Kaplan Miller and Ciresi, and before that at Greene Espel. Judge Thorson graduated summa cum laude from William Mitchell College of Law—now Mitchell Hamline—and has been an adjunct professor at the law school at various times since 1997. She currently serves on the Board of Mitchell Hamline School of Law and is chair of its Admissions and Marketing Committee. She is also a member of Mitchell Hamline's IP Advisory Committee. Judge Thorson has been active in the Federal Bar Association, serving as Editor-in-Chief of the Federal Lawyer from 2012 to 2015 and as Chapter president in 2005-06. She currently co-chairs the Chapter's Mass Tort and Class Action Committee. She was appointed to the Federal Practice Committee, District of Minnesota, in 2008, and was appointed Chair in 2014. She is engaged in legal education as a presenter or teacher locally and abroad, most recently assisting judges in Ukraine, Uzbekistan, Georgia, and Kazakhstan. Recently, due to the COVID-19 pandemic, she presented remotely at a program sponsored by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office for judges and lawyers in Brazil.

Martin T. Tully

Actuate Law LLC, Chicago, IL

Before launching his innovation-forward boutique law firm, Actuate Law, LLC, Martin was a litigation partner with several AmLaw 100 firms, where he also chaired the eDiscovery and Data Law practices. He is a veteran trial lawyer with over 25 years of national experience representing companies and individuals in complex commercial litigation concerning a broad array of fields and industries. Empowered by his commercial litigation practice, Martin is nationally recognized for his knowledge and experience in the fields of electronic discovery, information governance, and data security/data privacy. Martin advances thought leadership in data law as the Chairman of the Steering Committee of the Sedona Conference Working Group on Electronic Document Retention and Production (WG1), as an active member of the Sedona Conference Working Group on Data Security and Privacy Liability (WG11), the 7th Circuit Council on eDiscovery and Digital Information, the ABA Section of Litigation, Privacy and Data Security Committee, and the International Association of Privacy Professionals (IAPP), as well as a director at-large of the Chicago Chapter of the Association of Certified E-Discovery Professionals (ACEDS). In addition, Martin has published and presented extensively on the topics of eDiscovery, information governance, cybersecurity, data privacy, and legal technology; is among a select group of lawyers in the world ranked for Litigation: E-Discovery & Information Governance by Chambers USA: America's Leading Lawyers and Chambers & Partners Global; and has been acknowledged by Who's Who Legal as being "steps ahead of his competitors" and "widely regarded for his 'superior knowledge' of electronic discovery and information governance."

Hon. Nina Wang

U.S. District Court, District of Colorado, Denver, CO

Judge Wang is serving as a Judicial Advisor for The Sedona Conference's Working Group 9 on Patent Damages and Remedies (WG9) and Working Group 10 on Patent Litigation Best Practices (WG10) Steering Committee.

Craig W. Weinlein

The Sedona Conference, Phoenix, AZ

Craig is the Executive Director of The Sedona Conference. He has been a member of the Board of Directors of The Sedona Conference since 2009 and currently serves as the Chairman. Craig has worked with The Sedona Conference since 2000, when he served on the faculty of the first Conference on Patent Litigation. He was a member of The Sedona Conference Advisory Board from 2004 to 2013. Before joining The Sedona Conference full time in 2014, Craig was a partner with Carrington, Coleman, Sloman & Blumenthal, LLP in Dallas, Texas, for 25 years. He served as Chair of his firm's Intellectual Property Practice Group for his last ten years with the firm. His primary area of practice was complex litigation with a concentration in intellectual property cases. During the course of his career, Craig has tried dozens of cases and argued numerous appeals in federal and state courts. Craig was selected by American Lawyer Media and Martindale-Hubbell as a 2013 Top-Rated Lawyer in Intellectual Property. He is also listed as one of the best trademark practitioners in Texas in Who's Who Legal: Texas for 2007 and 2008 and in the 2012 through 2014 editions of World Trademark Review 1000—The World's Leading Trademark Professionals where he is described as "a remarkable litigator whose wide-ranging trial experience earns him a distinguished market standing.” Craig’s book, The Art of Witness Preparation, is a unique contribution to the literature on complex litigation because it focuses on the witness’s testimony and presentation, instead of the lawyer’s examination and performance. Craig’s publication credits also include articles in The American Journalism Review, The Journal of Arts Management and Law, and The American Symphony Orchestra League’s Principles of Orchestra Management.

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Kenneth J. Withers

The Sedona Conference, Phoenix, AZ

Ken is the Deputy Executive Director of The Sedona Conference. Since 1989, he has published several widely distributed papers on electronic discovery, hosted a popular website on electronic discovery and electronic records management issues, and given presentations at more than 300 conferences and workshops for legal, records management, and industry audiences. His most recent publications are Ephemeral Data and the Duty to Preserve Discoverable Electronically Stored Information in the University of Baltimore Law Review (2008); Living Daily with Weekley Homes in the Texas State Bar Advocate (Summer 2010); and Risk Aversion, Risk Management, and the Overpreservation Problem in Electronic Discovery in the South Carolina Law Review (2013). From 1999 through 2005, he was a Senior Education Attorney at the Federal Judicial Center in Washington D.C., where he developed Internet-based distance learning programs for the federal judiciary concentrating on issues of technology and the administration of justice. Ken also contributed to several well-known FJC publications, including the Manual for Complex Litigation, Fourth Edition (2004), Effective Use of Courtroom Technology (2001), and the Civil Litigation Management Manual (2001).